Hello 4I families! It is June! We are wrapping up our chapters and getting to the end of our textbooks. As we enter June, I would like to remind the students that it is not yet summer vacation. We still have homework and many tests during finals week that will affect grades. Let's finish the school year at the top of our game!

Science

We are currently studying Chapter 14, Energy. We will be learning about heat, sound, light and electricity. There will not be a test on this chapter.

During finals week we will have a family traits project in lieu of a final test. This is due on June 9th. Information about this project has been sent home. Enjoy learning about the traits that have been passed down through the years!

Math

As we wrap up the school year 4th grade is still hard at work with fractions. We are adding and subtracting fractions and mixed numbers, and learning how to turn an improper fraction into a mixed number.

A study guide will be sent home for the math final, which is on June 10th.

Language Arts

Information about the reading and English finals will be sent home.

Spelling

Information about the spelling final will be sent home. There is no specific list for the students to study from. Instead we will practice and study in school.

Religion

The final test will cover the current chapter we are studying, Chapter 14. This chapter goes into detail about the Sacraments of Healing.

It has been a wonderful school year and I enjoyed teaching and learning from all your children. They made me feel right at home and welcomed me into this SFA family. Thank you for a great school year and have a safe and blessed summer!

Feel free to contact me anytime with questions, comments or concerns.
