Reminders

Welcome back and Happy New Year!
This is a very busy month and I am sure it will go by very quickly. Grades will be closing on February 1st so it is important that the students are working hard to keep up their grades. Please be sure to check your phone messages and the news for cancellations and delays now that the weather is getting bad. Please also encourage your child to wear a warm jacket, hat, gloves, or a scarf.

In the classroom!

We are continuing to move ahead with new concepts and information using what we have learned so far. It is very important that all students know how to multiply and divide smaller numbers so that they can answer more challenging problems accurately. Make sure to check your child's progress on Teacherease. It is important that we can work together to help your child succeed. If your child finds any new information challenging they may ask to stay after for extra help and I will do my best to find a time that works for both of us.

Grade 7

In Social Studies the students will continue to work in their year-long journal project in their composition notebooks. We will continue to look at the building of a new government in America and begin to look at the early 1800's in America.. In Religion we will be looking more closely at the life of Jesus and the meaning behind his actions and the things that he went through.
